ADVERSE ACTION: If you decide to deny employment of an individual or deny an individual benefits because of the information obtained from our report, in part or in whole, you must follow the proper adverse action under the FCRA.

SCREENING PROCESS OVERVIEW

Organizations must follow these key steps to obtain a background report on an applicant:

1. Disclose (if applicable) to the applicant that they will be the subject of a background report as part of the onboarding selection/promotion/retention/placement process. Provided is a sample template for the Applicant Disclosure and Authorization form. Consult with a legal consultant regarding form compliance.
2. The organization collects the Disclosure (if applicable) and Authorization form from the applicant. The organization must keep the form on file for at least five years from the date of inquiry OR a minimum of five years from the date of termination. Be sure to read through the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACTA) Disposal Rules.
3. The organization uses the information to request a consumer report on the applicant from One Source.
4. One Source completes the consumer report and notifies the organization via email from orders@onesourcebackground.com.
5. The organization reviews the completed consumer report and determines if any information will adversely impact employment/placement decisions. If no adverse information impacts results from within the consumer report, the organization will proceed with steps in the onboarding process.

Steps 6-9 apply if adverse action is necessary

6. If an organization takes adverse action based in whole or part of the information in the consumer report, the organization must:
 - » Send the pre-adverse action letter to the applicant. There is a link on the right hand side of the completed report.
 - » Provide a copy of the consumer report to the applicant.
 - » Provide a copy of the Summary of Rights Under the FCRA.
7. Should the applicant dispute any information in the consumer report, they will need to contact One Source. Then our team will inform the organization of any disputes.
8. One Source reinvestigates any disputed information. If updates are made, the updated report is then sent to the organization and applicant.
9. The organization reviews updated report and makes final onboarding decisions. If the decision is adverse, a notice of the adverse action is sent to the applicant.
10. Use the link on the right hand side of the completed report for the adverse action letter.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do applicants need to sign a release form before conducting a background check?

In order to stay compliant with the Fair Credit Reporting Act and your One Source Client Service Agreement, you must obtain a signed release form from the applicant before ordering your background check.

How do I correct data entry or a service selection error after submitting an order?

Contact One Source at 800.608.3645 option 1 or email via cr@onesourcebackground.com to connect with a member of our Client Relations Team.

When the Applicant History Trace results show the number as invalid, what should I do?

If the Applicant History Trace results show invalid for the SSN provided by the applicant, first contact One Source to verify the SSN was entered properly. If it was entered correctly, please verify the SSN is accurate with the applicant.

If an applicant has a Social Security card stamped "VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH DHS AUTHORIZATION" or "VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH INS AUTHORIZATION," you will need to contact the Social Security Administration as our system is unable to recognize and process these Social Security numbers.

How do I receive the results of the background reports I have requested?

An HTML embedded link will be emailed to you when your report is completed. That link is password protected. You can also review reports following the Find Orders/View Reports section in this guide.

Can I provide applicants a copy of their background check report?

Yes. You can share the results of the report results with the applicant requesting the information by downloading a PDF. The applicant can also contact One Source to request a copy of their report.

Why does a background check report include dismissed charges?

The Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act states that non-conviction charges from arrests and tickets from some jurisdictions can be reported for up to seven years from the date filed. This information would be considered "Adverse Information" about a consumer and can be reported for seven years from the filing date.

One Source allows our clients to choose whether or not they want non-conviction information. If you receive non-conviction charges on your account and no longer wish to receive them, you can request One Source to update your account. If you do not already receive non-conviction charges on your account, you can request to have One Source update your account.
